AUSTRALIANS ABROAD.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Feb. 17.

The Rev. G. V. Peritus who has been through Oxford as one of the New South Wales scholars, leaves England to-day for the United States. Mr. Peritus is going to take up work in the Newcastle Diocese when he gets back to Australia. He obtained his B. Litt., degree, as well as one in arts, and played international football for England v. Wales.

Contributions should be addressed to The Editor, A Page for Women, "Herald" Office.

SHOPPING REFLECTIONS.

At such change of season, when nature renews her garb, fashion abhors in new modes, which suggest to her that she should renew hers. She readily falls in with the suggestion, and saunters forth shopwards. There she gazes upon beautiful materials set in graceful folds, with whose colourings up in her mind, Mr. McEacharn, Miss McEacharn, and Mr. Hurst, her secretary. It is good to hear of the new Literary Club, and are present in London at the Wellcome Palace Hotel.

Mrs. Mary Gaunt has been stopping at Government House, Gambier, on the west coast of Africa. She is preparing an expedition to obtain materials for a book dealing with parts of Liberia, which have never before been traversed by a white woman. She will go from Gambier to French Senegal, and afterwards to Sierra Leone.

Dr. G. E. Morrison, "Times" correspondent at Peking, left London yesterday for St. Petersburg and Moscow on his way to Manchuria.

A good deal of interest centres in his return, because he will probably speak in the most authoritative account of what really is the condition in the plaine districts. The accounts have largely come through the St. Petersburg papers, which Dr. Morrison says, are a small portion of the effort being made to inform the world of what is occurring.

The ordinary man of fashion takes here with the most interest part of the discussions, and asks how they are brought together from the four corners of the earth, and represent almost every department of human activity.

For instance, the rich silks and shagreen come from France and Italy, and China and Japan; the green trees are cultivated in their gardens to feed the silkworms; the peacock feathers from Southern India, or slung round Oriental girls, adorned the gaudy concours; in thousands of factories and village homes machine and hand looms clatter, and their busy shuttles fly to and fro; ships from all over the world bring the bales of steam and sugar. Who will notice the arrival of the Orient steamship silk? This is made in the Isle of pineapples grown in the Philippines Islands, and there is a prospect of such an industry being started in Queensland. Clothie light and heavy take you to our own broad pasture lands, where thousands of sheep are kept. And so on.

In the hills of Wales, Scotland, and the long miles of English fells, sheep are cared for who are close to nature's heart.

At the spring visits in turn the world's pastures lands sheen are rife of their fleeces, the wool is pressed into hats and we regards Australia come in waves in our factories, but the great majority go to the English factories, to be woven into material for various patterns and textures. Or again, in the cottage homes of England and Scotland it is converted into homespun, and always seem to seek of peat smoke, and so conjure up visions of the emerald grass, the lakes, the purple hills, and lovely glens.

Silk, whether white or dyed, are made from the stems of flax plants pulled up by the roots, sections from the seed-capsules of the cotton plant. In every country in the world these plants are grown and represent a large amount of work which is done in the spinning and the weaving, and the warehouses for the finished article give employment to thousands more.

Furs, perhaps, open out the most picturesque vista of all. They show the trappers and the hunters in the snow-bound regions of North America, and many other subjects could be dealt with on the position of hard labour; these men lead such patriotic and deep running they must possess?

Ladies confine up peaceful pictures of sunny cottage doors, and young girls and old women busy with their bobbinets. If one could but read the history of the life of the masses, of love of home, of fashion, the massing of experienced old age, what possibilities it would open up to the author or the poet. A tinge of sadness is mixed with the admiration one feels for the mass who's lonely conveniences bending their neck heads over dame webs while will never be worn.

The author Sir George Reid as a speaker may be judged from the following in the Standard of English:

"The author of 'The Light of Easter'—she is the most acceptable after-dinner speaker in London to-day," says the writer.

"I am sure that St. George is a guest with us," writes Mrs. Rosman, and she sang a delightful little melody, 'The Song of Yesterday,' the words of which were never thought of before."

Miss Josephine Marks, a Sydney girl, will make her appearance at the Town Hall on the 28th instant as a vocalist. Miss Marks has been associated with various charitable functions, and was the winner of the 'Duchess of Dantzig' set at St. Vincent's operatic ball. She also won the first prize awarded at a recent exhibition for a song by an Australian composer.

Among Australians whose musical talents are being recognised in London Miss Claire Newton of Sydney, has displayed considerable originality in her songs, and although she has not yet reached the public through the concert platform, she has been invited to sing at the Australian Embassy.

I care not stated in these columns, that St. George was not one of my heroes. I am the most ready to claim consideration for him, and he is a man of whom I am very fond and admirable blend of humour and keen, shrewd insight. And he knows how to drive a point home, and how to make one. Many a tip, if he's gobbling others rum in his labouring pastime, and those who are fond of him, will be pleased to hear that he is a man of whom I am very fond and admirable blend of humour and keen, shrewd insight. And he knows how to drive a point home, and how to make one. THE NAVAL ESTIMATES.

DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

GERMANY'S CAPITAL SHIPS.

LORD CHARLES BERESFORD'S FEARS

LONDON, March 21. The debate on the Naval Estimates was continued in the House of Commons last night.

Lord Charles Beresford (Unionist) disputed the calculation that Germany would have 32 capital ships in 1917. He said that the number would probably be 58, since Germany must continue building owing to the dominant figure of the 1907 conference. "New Zealand," the journal adds, "has often led the way in Imperial politics, and we trust that Sir Joseph Ward will persevere in the effort to advance the fundamental object of the conference, namely, the closer union of the scattered nations of the Empire."

Continuing, he said that 31 new British cruisers would be required in order to cope with the merchant ships which other nations claimed the right to arm.

Mr. R. McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, asserted the possibility of other nations arming their merchantmen to the extent indicated by Lord Charles Beresford, but declared that Britain did not admit their claim to do so; consequently we had to await the event.

"If merchantmen are commissioned," he added, "Britain will be fully equal to the emergency. But it will be time enough to consider how to act when that emergency arises."

RECIPROCITY.

UNITED STATES AND CANADA.

"THE PARTY MACHINE"

LONDON, March 21. Sir William Van Horne, who has large railway interests in Canada, stated in London yesterday that he was emphatically opposed to the reciprocity agreement between Canada and the United States.

He declared that four-fifths of the people of the Dominion were also opposed to it; nevertheless it would be passed into law because the party machine would push it through.

Sir William said he was unable to understand the action of Mr. James Bryce, British Ambassador at Washington, in aiding and abetting the agreement.

MR. CLARKE'S PROMISE.

WASHINGTON, March 21. Mr. Champ Clarke has promised that the Democrats in the forthcoming special session of Congress intend to pass the Reciprocity Bill.

TRROUBLED PORTUGAL.

ANOTHER "GENERAL" STRIKE.

CONFFLICT WITH THE TROOPS.

LISBON, March 21. As a protest against the shooting of two strikers a general strike was ordered. The bulk of the workers, however, refused to join in. No newspapers are being published.

Strikers attacked the trams, and the Republican Guards charged the strikers with drawn swords. The strikers were dispersed, and many arrests were made, including all the strike leaders.

The general public have made demonstrations in the streets against the strikers.

ATTACK ON EARL GREY.

THE OVERSEAS CLUB.

VANCOUVER, March 21. Replying to Mr. Ewart's attack on the Governor-General because of his alleged connection with the Overseas Club, the officials of the club deny that Earl Grey acted in its organisation. They say he merely expressed his sympathy.

The officials point out that members on both sides of the Legislature had joined the club, which was non-political in its scope.

Mr. Ewart, who is a well-known Ottawa lawyer, accused Earl Grey of actively aiding in the establishment of the Overseas Club. He went on to say that the Government, as a representative of the Canadian people, has no right to unite Canada politically and for war purposes to the motherland." Mr. Ewart concluded his talk with the comment: "The participation is our greatest obstacle to Canadian nationalism."

SAME VIEWS OF WAR.

VICE-DEAN OF CANTERBURY'S ADVICE.

LONDON, March 20. The Ven. William Danks, M.A., Vice-Dean of Canterbury, discussing the question of armaments, said that it was well to have some views of war. While welcoming a League of Peace, they should not make that a reason for encouraging unpreparedness for war, or lack of discipline, or public spirit.

PROBATE REVOKED.

A NEW ZEALAND CASE.

LONDON, March 21. The Probate Court has revoked Probate of the will of Mrs. Mary Oden, who is still alive in New Zealand.

Her husband secured probate by means of a so-called certificate of death that purported to have been made out at Alfredton, in Wairarapa, New Zealand.

The papers in the case have been sent to the Public Prosecutor.

AWFUL FAMINE CONDITIONS.

MISSIONARY'S DOLEFUL LETTER.

NEW YORK, March 20. A letter has been received from a missionary at Awei province which gives details of unimaginable famine conditions.

The missionary writes that five months have yet to elapse before harvest time, and that the people are eating weeds, the bark of trees, dogs, and other animals. "The bark of trees," he adds, "is yet to come."

ATTEMPTED THEFT OF PAINTINGS.

LONDON, March 21. A butler discovered a former servant at Lord Joicey's home, Gregynog, Montgomeryshire, escaping from a window of the house. On noticing that he had been seen the latter dropped a packet of famous paintings which had been cut from their frames. Among the pictures was Turner's "Tivoli," which is valued at £10,000.

Money advanced upon all securities, N.W. M. & Co., Piccadilly, 26 Castle-street, Liverpool, 76, and 17 Grosvenor-square, London, S.W. 1.—Advt.

CALL OF IMPERIALISM.

THE SCATTERED NATIONS.

TRIBUTE TO MR. DEENIN'S Eloquence.

LONDON, March 20. The "Times," referring to the coming Imperial Conference, declares that the Australian delegates will have to better themselves if they are to maintain the reputation for eloquence and fervid imperialism, which made Mr. Alfred Deakin the dominant figure of the 1907 conference. "New Zealand," the journal adds, "has often led the way in Imperial politics, and we trust that Sir Joseph Ward will persevere in the effort to advance the fundamental object of the conference, namely, the closer union of the scattered nations of the Empire."

MINISTERS REFUSE TO BE DRAWN.

Mr. Asquith (Prime Minister) and Mr. Lewis Harcourt (Secretary of State for the Colonies), replying to questions in the House of Commons this afternoon, refused to draw into a discussion on Sir Joseph Ward's Imperial scheme.

RUSSIAN CRISIS.

THE CZAR AND THE POLES.

DRAMATIC BILL REJECTED.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20. The Czar has refused to accept the resignation of M. Stolypin (Premier).

M. Stolypin tendered his resignation owing to the Council of the empire rejecting his electoral bill, which, by dividing the constituencies according to the nationalities, was intended to transfer the power of the Poles to the Russians in the Zemstvos of the western provinces.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21. The Czar has accepted the resignation of M. Stolypin.

M. Kokovtsov, who was Minister of Finance in the Stolypin Ministry, has been called upon to form a Cabinet.

ANGLO-SAXON UNITY.

ARBITRATION PROPOSALS.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S APPROVAL.

OTTAWA, March 21. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Prime Minister, warmly supports the Anglo-American arbitration proposals.

He eulogises the recent speech of Sir Edward Grey and says he is looking to the future for the realisation of peace by the union of the English-speaking peoples.

JURY'S VERDICT SET ASIDE.

SIR JOHN BENN'S APPEAL.

LONDON, March 20. The Court of Appeal has dissolved the verdict of £12,000 awarded by a jury in the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court against Sir John Benn, Journalist, for libelling the patentees of the Self Tramways.

The plaintiffs had contended that Sir John Benn, in political motives, had damaged their system, with the result that the value of the trams had been reduced, thereby securing his libelment. The Court of Appeal held that the attack was on the system and not personal.

Notice of appeal to the House of Lords has been given.

SEDITION IN INDIA.

THE NEW BILL.

CALCUTTA, March 21. The Sedition Bill has been passed by the Imperial Council.

The Indian Members of the council deprecated permanent legislation on the subject, but thanked the Government for removing the most objectionable features of the old bill.

Lord Hardinge of Penshurst, Viceroy, stated that the Act would be extended to a district only when necessary. He hoped it would remain a dead letter.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

DEMONSTRATION IN GERMANY.

LONDON, March 20. Twenty-five thousand persons, mostly women, participated in a demonstration of social democrats in favour of female suffrage.

Miss Vida Goldstein, of Victoria, in the course of an interview, stated that the women of Australia approved of the militant method adopted by the women suffragists in England.

Our Melbourne correspondent telegraphed last night:—"Mrs. E. S. Hughes, president of the Australian Council of Women, to-day received a telegram from Miss Goldstein, who said that the methods adopted by the militant suffragettes in England were approved by the women of Australia."

OUR EDWARD MEMORIAL.

LONDON, March 21. The King Edward Memorial is to be erected at Marborough Gate, St. James's Park. It is to take the form of a bronze statue, with allegorical figures, costing £20,000.

A further £20,000 of the amount subscribed is to be spent in widening one of the avenues and the bridge in St. James's Park.

RUSSIA AND CHINA.

THE LATTER MAKES CONCESSIONS.

PEKING, March 21. China has despatched a Note to Russia, conceding the Russian demands in regard to a consulate at Kolde, and also freezing of trade in Mongolia, except in tea.

THE GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, March 20. Captain Newton (Bartholomew) telegrams to the New Plymouth Harbour Board, said that, in the course of surveying the approach to the harbour, he had discovered that the entrance to the New Zealand Almanac, was three and three-quarter miles out of position, being that distance too far east.

Another £20,000 of the amount subscribed is to be spent in widening one of the avenues and the bridge in St. James's Park.

THE KING AND THE WORKERS.

LONDON, March 21. Lord Balfour of Burleigh, speaking in London said that the King was deeply interested in co-operation and the housing of the workers.

As chairman of the Duchy of Cornwall, he had, he said, been working with His Majesty to assist the system, with the result that the value of the trams had been reduced.

BIG COMMERCIAL FAILURE.

THE WOOL SALES.

LONDON, March 20. At the wool sales to-day all prices were fully maintained. There were strong competition and a good selection of crossbreds.

March 21. The prices indicated were realised for the undermentioned clips:—Tunia, highest 144d, average 124d; Inverell, 124d; Nundle, 14d; 104d; Chalgrove, 114d; Matuka, 214d, 224d; Glenburn, 104d, 94d.

UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE.

CAMBRIDGE IN FORM.

LONDON, March 21. The Cambridge crew yesterday rowed from Hammersmith Bridge to Chalcots Basin in 57s, which equals the record for the distance.

The form of the Oxford crew is disappointing.

PORT WRONGLY CHARTED.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Tuesday.

Captain Newton (Bartholomew) telegrams to the New Plymouth Harbour Board, said that, in the course of surveying the approach to the harbour, he had discovered that the entrance to the New Zealand Almanac, was three and three-quarter miles out of position, being that distance too far east.

Another £20,000 of the amount subscribed is to be spent in widening one of the avenues and the bridge in St. James's Park.

THE FASCINATION OF THE BIBLE.

TERCENTENARY CELEBRATIONS.

INTERESTING OLD EDITIONS.

There is a fascination in old Bibles, one of the most interesting features in the current year, to be medically examined as to their age, or otherwise to undertake the exacting task of determining whether they may be genuine or forged.

It is expected that many interesting editions of the Scriptures will be sent in. Some have already been received, and these are to be examined, and possibly given a date.

It is expected that the exhibition of old Bibles will be the exhibition of old Bibles in the bookroom at the Bible House, 242 Pitt-street, from Tuesday next to Saturday.

NO MATTER WHAT THE TEST, A "TRIUMPH" WILL ALWAYS SCORE.

It does not matter to what test you put a "Triumph" Motor Cycle, the performance of the machine is bound to be in keeping with its fine reputation.

There's a reason for this, and it lies in the fact that the machine is built by expert workmen from the very best materials.

The engine is perfect, and so is every part, and nothing parts.

These aside, the wonderfully simple hand control is not the least to recommend it. With this you can at all times and at all speeds retain complete control of the machine. It has never been known to fail.

If you are interested come in, and let me show you the other superb features, such as the new "Triumph" magneto, special carburetor, and improved tank with patrol gauge. Our Pitt-street Depot is open till 9 on Friday night for those who can't call during the day.
